

ABC/Ohio is pleased to welcome Dr. Holly Allen as our conference leader...

Dr. Holly Catterton Allen is Professor of Family Science and Christian Ministry at Lipscomb University. She teaches undergraduate courses in Early Childhood Development and Family Ministry.

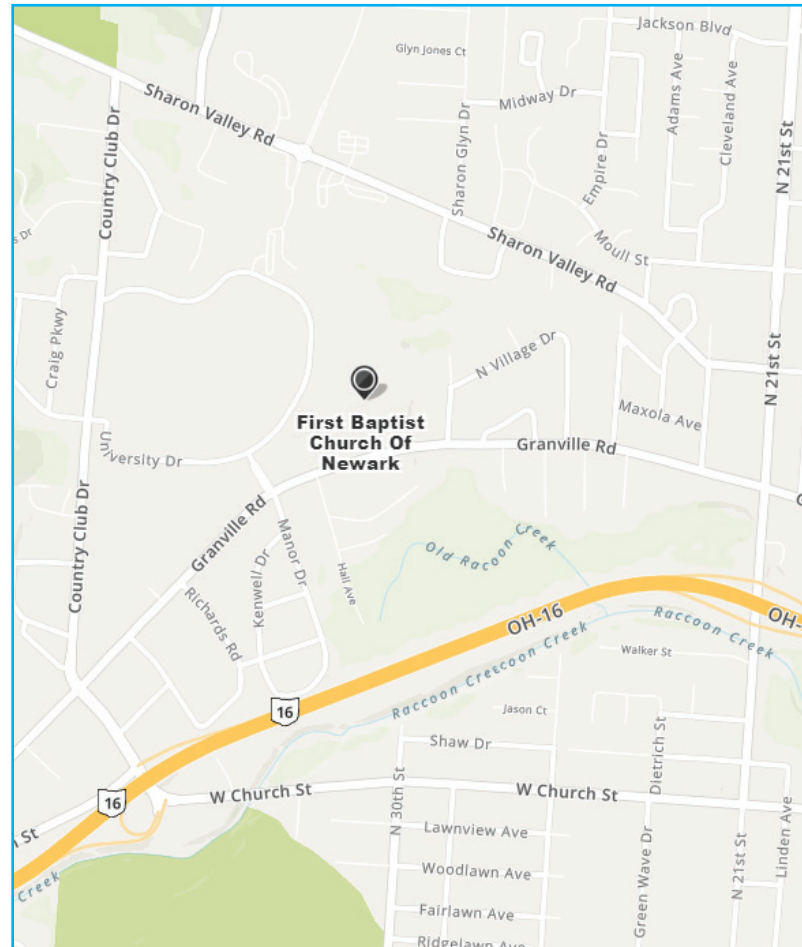

Dr. Allen's areas of scholarly interest are children's spirituality and intergenerational issues. She is the author of "InterGenerate: Transforming Churches through Intergenerational Ministry" (ACU Press, 2018), the edited volume from the 2017 InterGenerate Conference held in Nashville, TN, and "Intergenerational Christian Formation: Bringing the Whole Church Together in Ministry, Community, and Worship" (InterVarsity Press, 2012). She is currently working on a book for InterVarsity Press with the working title of Nurturing Spiritual Formation in Children.

Dr. Allen chairs the task force that convened the inaugural InterGenerate Conference in 2017 at Lipscomb University; InterGenerate is an international, cross-denominational gathering that brings together academics and practitioners who are passionate about bringing the generations together in Christian faith communities.

She is married to Leonard Allen and they have three adult children, David, Daniel, and Bethany, as well as four grandchildren. She and her husband enjoy hiking, lifting weights, gardening, and cooking together.

Through teaching and discussion, Dr. Allen will help pastors, children's ministry leaders, student ministry leaders, senior adult ministry leaders, teachers, other church leaders, and parents learn practical ways to implement intergenerational ministry in ABC Ohio congregations.

All pastors and members will be blessed by attending this missional church conference!
